AOPA FOUNDATION

KEEPING PILOTS SAFE. AND SAFEGUARDING THE FUTURE OF GA.

When you think of AOPA, you probably think of the services you use, the publications you enjoy, or the association's work on Capitol Hill. You may not think of AOPA's charitable arm, the AOPA Foundation.

The efforts of the Foundation are absolutely vital to the work we do on behalf of our members and the entire general aviation community. The Foundation provides much of the funding we need to promote safety, preserve airports, restore the pilot population, and improve general aviation's image.

In the pages of this book, you'll have the opportunity to learn more about the Foundation itself, our mission, the progress we are making, and the work yet to be done. As you read through these materials, I hope you'll think about how our efforts align with your particular interests, and envision the role you might take in supporting the general aviation community through the AOPA Foundation.

As with any significant undertaking, the efforts of the AOPA Foundation rely heavily on the leadership of a select group of committed individuals who share our vision of a brighter future for general aviation. I hope you will consider becoming part of that elite leadership team, helping to guide our efforts to create a more vibrant general aviation community.

Sincerely,

AOPA President and CEO

After more than 50 years as an independent organization, the AOPA Air Safety Foundation will become the Air Safety Institute and will now lend its strength, experience, and credibility to the AOPA Foundation. The AOPA Foundation will continue to provide the resources needed to maintain the life saving safety resources that pilots have come to depend on.

As someone who loves to fly, and loves the people who share that passion, it is an honor to assist in protecting the future of general aviation, as the President of the AOPA Foundation.

As the charitable giving arm of AOPA, the AOPA Foundation, a 501(c)(3) organization, has a broad charter to address the critical challenges of the present and future in key initiatives identified by our supporters and members. Those initiatives are: promoting safety, preserving airports, restoring the pilot population, and improving the image of general aviation.

The challenges facing general aviation continue to mount. From the diminishing pilot population to encroachment on community airports, from the ever-changing security environment to budgetary constraints, the intricacies of air traffic modernization, and deep-seated misunderstandings about what GA is and who benefits from it, there is much work to do to protect our freedom to fly.

It will take a significant infusion of capital, carefully managed and directed to projects that can really make a difference, on the issues that continuously threaten the future of general aviation.

For individual philanthropists, the AOPA Foundation provides an outstanding avenue for tax-deductible giving to an organization whose programs and initiatives are specifically designed to protect general aviation for generations to come. Supporters have numerous donation options, including: pledges, outright gifts, planned and deferred giving, and bequests.

We look forward to working with you as we lend our support in the effort to preserve our freedom to fly and to ensure that future generations of pilots can have many wonderful flying experiences thanks to the legacy we leave by supporting the AOPA Foundation's mission.

Safe Skies,

Bruce Landsberg
AOPA Foundation President

Ensuring the future of general aviation is at the heart of the AOPA Foundation's mission. That is why the Foundation needs your continued engagement in the important initiatives we fund - keeping pilots safe, preserving airports, building the pilot population and improving the image of general aviation. We write to you jointly this year to thank you for your past generosity and ask that you help us expand our efforts to protect your freedom to fly by lending your support once again.

Your contributions to the Foundation help perpetuate the values we all share. Guided by a dedicated Board of Visitors and Board of Trustees, we can address the challenges facing General Aviation and keep flying safe, affordable, and available for anyone who wants to become a pilot and for those whose businesses depend on GA to grow and thrive.

The Foundation's board members are not only advisors, they are also contributors who care deeply about aviation's future. They are committed to ensuring the AOPA Foundation remains well funded and to providing philanthropic opportunities for you to protect what you are passionate about.

We offer our sincere thanks to them and to you for all you do to protect flying now and for future generations of aviators. We hope we can count on your ongoing support as we address the challenges of today and tomorrow.

Rick Wells currently serves as President, Chairman, and CEO of Magnolia Plastics, Inc. and manages all daily sales and manufacturing operations of the company. The son of founders Don and Jo Wells, Rick has been involved with the family business since he was 12 years old and has held numerous positions at Magnolia, ranging from working on the production floor to his current leadership role.

After serving in the U.S. military, Rick founded and operated three successful businesses before joining Magnolia full time in 1997. In 2003, Rick bought controlling interest in Magnolia and today owns the company with his two sisters. Under his leadership, sales have grown more than 300% since 2003.

Rick earned his private pilot certificate in 2004 and is instrument and multi-engine rated. He has flown more than 100 Angel Flight missions for Angel Flight of Georgia, ferrying patients to medical appointments, Angel Flight staff to branch openings and recruiting events, and bringing both medical and disaster relief to areas stricken by natural disasters. Rick also serves as an Angel Flight Pilot Trainer and On-Call Pilot.

When it is appropriate, Rick flies his own aircraft on company business. Because many Magnolia customers are located in relatively remote areas, it is sometimes more efficient to travel to a small, local airport near the customer than it is to fly commercial, rent a car, and then drive for several hours.

Rick is a member of the AOPA President's Council and Board of Visitors and serves in an advisory capacity to other private companies and charitable organizations.

PROMOTING SAFETY : KEEPING PILOTS SAFE

AOPA has been at the forefront of accident prevention and flight safety since our founders decided in 1939 that our mission was to make flying safer, more fun, and more affordable. In 1950, AOPA took safety to a new level, establishing the AOPA Air Safety Foundation. In the 60 years since, the accident rate per 100,000 flying hours has dropped by an impressive 86% - in large part because of the efforts of the AOPA Air Safety Foundation. Here are several new programs dedicated to promoting safety:

- » New live seminars; to expand upon the 200+ seminars that over 40,000 pilots attended in 2009
- » New online courses; beyond the 30 existing courses averaging more than 30,000 completions monthly
- » Support of targeted aviation education and research
- » Ongoing pilot education webinars

GROWING & NUTURING THE PILOT POPULATION : SAFEGAURDING THE FUTURE OF GA

In recent years, the pilot population has dipped below 600,000, the result of a long, steady and continuing decline. The number of student pilots entering the system has also declined precipitously. A comprehensive approach to address the underlying reasons for fewer people entering and finishing flight school is needed. We are committed to raising the resources necessary to invest in this important initiative. The Foundation is launching several programs to achieve our goal:

- » A new training experience involving flight schools and CFIs
- » Inspiring new pilots
- » Developing an online rating system for students to rate flight schools and CFIs
- » Helping consumers make informed choices for flight training

PRESERVING AIRPORTS : KEEPING AVIATION ACCESSIBLE & AFFORDABLE

Preserving airports must be at the heart of any effort to promote general aviation because they are an integral part of what makes GA such an effective means of moving people and goods, delivering services and connecting remote or otherwise isolated communities. There are four programs designed to preserve our community airports:

- » Expanding the Airport Support Network Program, which currently has more than 2,000 volunteers in place
- » Building upon the Airport Watch Program, a sensible approach to airport security
- » AOPA Airport Action Kit; Creating and updating resource materials
- » Educating local decision makers and influencers on the value of airports to their communities

IMPROVING GENERAL AVIATION'S IMAGE : FOSTERING A POSITIVE PUBLIC IMPRESSION OF GA

A positive image of general aviation as a creator of jobs, stimulator of the economy, vital means of delivering services, and critical element of our national transportation infrastructure, creates incentives to preserve it. For this reason, AOPA is dedicated to continuing to improve GA's image. We want to expand our outreach into key states where educating media, community leaders and other influencers can make a real difference. We are introducing several new programs to do just that:

- » AOPA Live; Expanding our online network/webcast to pilots and decision makers
- » Collecting and distributing real stories —like “I’m a Pilot”
- » Publicizing GA's extensive humanitarian efforts: Angel Flight, medical relief flights, and more
- » Proactive and reactive safety campaigns; responding to accidents and identifying potential safety concerns and educating pilots and the community

That is why I lend my support and will continue contributing to the AOPA Foundation's critical work."

As a pilot who knows the value of general aviation and the benefits the AOPA Foundation provides in protecting our freedom to fly, Tom has a long history of philanthropic giving to preserve these values.

Tom originally wanted to help as an AOPA Hat in the Ring Society member. Impressed with the safety resources his contributions helped build, he graciously stepped up to become one of the charter members of the AOPA President's Council. Now with the new comprehensive mission and giving opportunities that the Foundation's mission provides, he has signed up to be the National Chairman of the Campaign for GA and is one of the charter members of the New Horizon Founder's Society. Tom is very interested in growing the pilot population and ensuring that people have a chance to learn to fly.

Before becoming the founder and Chairman of Redbird Flight Simulations, Inc. the world's largest manufacturer of full-motion flight simulators for Universities and Flight Schools, Jerry worked for Pepsi-Cola and Dell Computers. Working in the highly competitive environments of these demanding organizations, Jerry relied on what aviation and aviators had already taught him: self confidence and the ability to make quick and informed decisions are the keys to success.

Jerry holds an Airline Transport Pilot rating and a single pilot type rating for Cessna Citation 525 jets. His passion for aviation stems back to his childhood when he and his brother would hang around airplanes "since before I can remember." His father and uncle worked for Bell Aircraft and Jerry received his pilot's license in 1973 as part of the Navy's FIP program. He learned to fly Piper Cherokee 140s out of a small airport near Columbia, Missouri.

When asked why he supports the AOPA Foundation, Jerry said "take a close look at the condition of General Aviation in every other country in the world. Without the programs and dedication that AOPA provides, that may be our future. We owe it to the next generation of aviators to keep this freedom."

Jerry currently serves on the Science and Technology Advisory Board of the University of Texas, the Research and Development Advisory Board of the University of Missouri, is a columnist for CIO magazine, and a rancher.

 † CHARTER MEMBER

LEGACY SOCIETY

Commitment For Estate Planning And Long-Term Giving

The AOPA Legacy Society was created to honor the thoughtfulness and vision of those special donors who care deeply about preserving general aviation for future generations. Through membership in this society, AOPA recognizes individuals who include The AOPA Foundation as a beneficiary in their will, retirement plan, or life insurance policy; or establish a charitable gift annuity or trust to benefit The AOPA Foundation. These donors are establishing a precedent for assuring our freedom to fly for generations of pilots yet to come. Please consider joining this special group of donors in preserving the future of general aviation.

Hal Shevers stepped forward to become one of the first members of The AOPA Legacy Society. He encourages other pilots to join him as a Charter Member.

HAROLD "HAL" SHEVERS : HONORARY CHAIRMAN : LEGACY SOCIETY

As volunteer pilots for Angel Flight, Steve and Cynde Magidson give wings to the idea of helping people in need.

The nonprofit charitable organization arranges free air transportation for any legitimate, charitable, medically-related need, with pilots donating the use of their planes and operating expenses. The Magidsons, who live in Oregon, have flown patients traveling for surgery, chemotherapy, and other treatments.

The Angel Flights are just one more reason that Steve and his wife of 37 years love flying. "Being pilots and aircraft owners has allowed us to travel more places, meet more people, and have more wonderful experiences than we thought possible," Steve said.

He retired after more than 30 years in the computer industry and work in senior executive sales and marketing positions in several successful high-tech companies, including Xircom (now part of Intel) and Puma/Intellisync Corporation. He has served as a technical marketing consultant to major companies including IBM and Toshiba.

The Magidsons appreciate the safety and training that the AOPA Foundation and the Air Safety Foundation provide. "They create the marvelous general aviation environment that we are privileged to have," Cynde said. "AOPA and ASF are absolutely vital to a vibrant general aviation world."

To show their support for AOPA's important work, the Magidsons have included a planned gift in their estate for the organization. "We are so proud to be able to make a donation and help AOPA and ASF continue to prosper," Steve said.

John is a dedicated supporter who knows the value of aviation and of taking air safety courses. He became and has remained engaged with AOPA throughout the years. “When I started flying in the early 80s, I guess one of the first things I did was join AOPA to try to keep more aware of what was going on in the marketplace to keep safe, current and learn. I have probably taken 10 or 12 of the AOPA Air Safety Foundation courses.”

When asked how aviation is used in his day to day life, he said, “There are values I use in business as a result of flying. When I have a learning process with part of my team, I often reference aviation. I use what I’ve learned in aviation in how I approach problems. I think there’s a tremendous intellectual value in pushing yourself to try to learn more because it opens you up to new ways of thinking about solutions.”

John flies a TBM 850. “It is an incredible commuting experience. I use it for business as well as pleasure. With the nearest airline airport being about a 2-hour drive away, in the time it takes me to head into the city for a flight, we could be almost anywhere. I guess from an overall standpoint, we find aviation is an outrageously efficient method of transportation, and safe based on all the other options.”

In his own words about the AOPA Foundation, “AOPA is one of the few charitable organizations that receive my dollars.”

ENDOWMENTS

Established in 2003 in memory of Erral Lea Plymate to support GA safety initiatives, the Plymate family created the Erral Lea Plymate Memorial Endowment. What began with a $50 gift has now soared to over $750,000 and continues to grow. The AOPA Foundation gratefully acknowledges the Plymate family and the many generous donors who have contributed to this milestone. The full list of contributors is available upon request.

The Plymate Endowment continues to serve as an inspiration for others to create endowments that honor their designees and to support their passion for aviation.

“I’ve been a pilot since I was 17 years old.”

Warren knows that general aviation is a vital part of our economy. He notes “I think private aviation, general aviation, plays a big role in commerce in the United States, but lately it’s been getting somewhat of a bad rap.”

When asked about aviation’s role in his life, Warren said “I fly at least once a week, totaling about 150 hours a year. Most of the time, I fly for business reasons. We are in the real estate and property management business. We develop and manage apartment communities around the nation. We’re based in Michigan, and we have properties in 13 states. To be able to access our sites, find new land, and get our people out to the properties to do their jobs, private aircraft are essential to our operations. Once you figure that out it becomes an incredible tool, a productivity tool.”

Warren is an AOPA Life Member who stated “I contribute to the AOPA Foundation because I want to promote private aviation in the United States, and protect the open use of the airways.”

LIFE MEMBERS

AOPA Life Members – almost 1,400 AOPA Life Members who recognized the value and joys of general aviation have made a generous donation of $2,500 of which 80% was tax deductible.

DONOR EVENTS

Throughout the year, pilots gather to share their experiences and learn from other pilots. AOPA is reaching out to more communities and pilots whenever possible. Sun 'n Fun and EAA's AirVenture are just a few of the places where AOPA Foundation donors meet and engage with the organization.

The upcoming AOPA Aviation Summit 2010 is an aviation-themed event with something for all ages and levels of aviation enthusiasm. The educational forums have been expanded to offer more choices than ever before. As supporters of the AOPA Foundation, we hope to see you at this year's event so you can see how you are making a difference in the future of general aviation.

CLOSING NOTE FROM CRAIG FULLER

Protecting the future of general aviation will require considerable resources and a dedicated commitment from the AOPA Foundation and pilots like you. The future of GA is inextricably linked to the leadership, passion, and capacity of AOPA and its members. Contributions to the AOPA Foundation fund efforts to address some of GA's biggest challenges, including improving GA's safety record through education, preserving community airports, educating the public about the benefits of GA, and growing the pilot population. Thank you for your contributions to the Foundation. I hope you will continue to lend your tax-deductible support to help protect our freedom to fly.

THE AOPA FOUNDATION MISSION

The AOPA Foundation, a tax exempt 501(c)(3) charitable, educational, and scientific organization, educates the public on the value of general aviation. The AOPA Foundation works to improve aviation safety, preserve and improve community airports and encourage learning to fly for career and personal benefit—all in the interest of ensuring the future of general aviation in America.

To support the future of general aviation we encourage you to get involved and stay involved with the AOPA Foundation.
